

I would like to urge you not to loosen the rules regarding broadcast ownership. We need a multitude of voices speaking on behalf of all people, something that will be lost if just a few companies own everything. We can already see the potential problems by looking at the power Clear Channel now holds over our airwaves.